What is APFSSH?

The Asia Pacific Federation of Hand Societies (APFHS) collaborates with Asia-Pacific countries biannually to align and share the different findings and development of hand surgery in specific geographical and cultural societies. In order to make this possible, the Congress of the Asian Pacific Federation of Societies for Surgery of the Hand (APFSSH) was established. The congress is a large gathering of medical professionals and surgeons for productive exchange of research and findings, meetings, lectures and workshops.

This year, the Association of Hand Surgeons of the Philippines in cooperation with the APFHS is proud to invite you to the 11th APFSSH Congress and the 7th Asian Pacific Federation of Societies for Hand Therapists (APFSHT) meeting in the wonderful island of Cebu, Philippines on November 7-10, 2017 at the renowned Radisson Blu Hotel.

Listen to speakers as they share their expertise on the latest global scientific evidence in hand surgery in Asia. Engage and network with an expected 800 delegates from a wide community of top medical professionals and surgeons from around the globe.

Experience the warmth of the Cebuano hospitality and feast on an array of delectable Cebuano dishes. Immerse yourself in the rich Filipino culture and be delighted to know that Cebu has it all within reach from the urban adventures to the beautiful pristine white sand beaches and diving sites, to the shopping and entertainment malls.

This heady mix of modernity, business, lifestyle, culture and history makes the city the perfect place for the 11th APFSSH in 2017.
